About the Bruce Museum

The Bruce Museum is a community-based, world-class institution highlighting art and science in more than a dozen changing exhibitions annually. The permanent galleries feature the natural sciences that encompass regional to global perspectives. Accredited by the American Alliance of Museums and voted the best museum in Fairfield County by area media in recent years, the Bruce plays an integral role in the cultural life of area residents. The Museum attracts approximately 70,000 visitors annually, including 24,000 schoolchildren, reaching out to families, seniors, students, and community organizations. Located in a park setting just off I-95, exit 3, at 1 Museum Drive in Greenwich, Connecticut, the Museum is also a 5-minute walk from the Metro-North Greenwich Station. The Bruce Museum is open Tuesday through Sunday from 10 am to 5 pm; closed Mondays and major holidays. For additional information, call the Bruce Museum at 203-869-0376 or visit brucemuseum.org.

About Grace Farms

Grace Farms was established with the idea that space communicates and can inspire people to collaborate for the common good. To realize this vision, Grace Farms Foundation set out to create a building nestled into the existing habitat that enables visitors to experience nature, encounter the arts, pursue justice, foster community, and explore faith. The River building, designed by SANAA, is a part of the landscape without drawing attention to itself, demonstrating a high degree of sensitivity to the 80 acres of landscape and topography at Grace Farms. The River building has been honored with numerous prestigious design awards including the Mies Crown Hall Americas Prize and the AIA National Architecture Honor Award. More than 70 of Grace Farms' 80 acres are being preserved in perpetuity as open meadows, woods, wetlands, and ponds. For additional information visit gracefarms.org.
